Omnitech Students and Staff:

As we enter April 2020 under stay-at-home orders, we want to offer our gratitude and encouragement for coming weeks.

Our gratitude goes to each student and every staff member who has taken on personal and education changes with a great attitude. Every one of us has something to be proud of right now regardless of our circumstances. Omnitech has over 20 years of seeing people rise to life challenges and continues to be successful.

Students, you willingly decided to change your life by coming to Omnitech to get the job skills you want for a more secure future. Thank you for sticking to your studies despite being thrust into an unanticipated learning environment. Each one of you are training at Omnitech for essential jobs. If there was ever a situation to display your perseverance and sprit, now is the time.

Instructors and support staff who are working amidst this abrupt transition, you are our heroes. Words cannot describe the quality of your character in continuing so serve the Omnitech mission of providing student's marketable skills training and human development. Right now, each of you is taking the mission to another level.

Respectfully,

Carlos Lester
